

Informing parents through the school exclusion process

 If Governors Panel upholds exclusion a second time after IRP has overturned the first decision, no further appeal is available and the child is permanently excluded.*